

STRATEGIC PLAN

2022 - 2027

For additional information visit www.marist.ac.jp

This document has been created for all MBIS community members.

By its nature, a strategic plan looks to the future and establishes the goals and aspirations that allow an institution to continuously improve. A school's Strategic Plan sets the priorities and identifies the strategies that will help it provide the very best education for its students.

Over the past 12 months, representatives of the MBIS Board of Directors and Trustees, the administration, faculty, staff, parents, and alumni have gathered information, discussed alternatives and aspirations, and considered ways Marist should sustainably develop to meet future needs and challenges. This Strategic Plan is the culmination of months of work. The plan identifies areas that are priorities for the school in the next 5 years and recommends specific initiatives that can be undertaken to strengthen and enhance the school.

While any strategic plan is a living document requiring continuous review and reflection, this plan provides a roadmap to move the school forward. The Academic Leadership Team is now charged with its implementation. The strategic planning process is always about the future, but it necessarily reflects both the past and the present situation of the school. One outcome of this process is confirmation that we start from a position of 'potential' and 'opportunity.'

Although the school's long history and guiding statements have contributed to the community's collective understanding of educational values and beliefs, this Strategic Plan aims to address the complexities of planning for an increasingly diverse and uncertain future. The Strategic Plan guides the school's development as a learning community with a focus on upgrading facilities, strengthening governance, fostering a positive school culture, revitalizing the school's identity, implementing curricular improvements, improving program offerings, hiring staff in essential areas, and improving communication. We aim to ensure that the guiding statements established in this Strategic Plan are a driving force for the school's next stage of development.

We have a committed faculty and staff and a community of compassionate and engaged students. We have sound financial health, but our work on this plan has been inevitably colored by the school's history as well as our acknowledgment that the world around us has changed. We recognize the need to consider the school's role and position in a global and economically diverse world, and some of the new goals, objectives and strategies reflect this: the importance of providing our students with a global perspective and an authentic commitment to character, service and leadership, and the need to ensure that our community remains inclusive and diverse.

Other goals reflect our thoughts on how to provide appropriate facilities to meet our future needs and how best to preserve and enhance our institutional stability. Ultimately, however, every goal, objective and strategy identified represents our most important priority—to ensure that we best meet the educational needs of our students and successfully fulfill the school's mission and achieve its vision. Through this plan, we are continuing Marist's position as a truly unique and cherished educational institution in Kobe, Japan.

Sincerely,

Jun Yamaguchi

GOAL D

Marist will nurture talent and attract a diverse team of highly motivated, committed and qualified faculty and staff to provide excellent teaching that fosters character building and positive learning outcomes for students.

The school's reputation is largely built and enhanced on the quality, professionalism and expertise of its staff and faculty. We aim to recruit, develop and retain inspiring teachers, backed by a highly motivated support team, who are all fully committed to driving the school forward as a global leader in the delivery of innovative, high quality international education.

Strong academic results are important to us, but we take the balanced view that we should aim to educate our students more profoundly than simply for achievement in examinations. As they learn and grow, we aim to equip each individual with key skills and attributes in line with our values. Making use of a range of pedagogical and learning styles, we will challenge and encourage both teachers and students to develop their capacity and passion for learning.

To achieve this end, we are committed to excellence in our teaching. Our teachers are expert practitioners, who are both dedicated to their teaching and committed to the caring development of young people. We will continue to build upon their strengths through the provision of excellent professional development and training, and through the establishment of a school-wide culture of observation, mentoring and professional coaching.

Investment in people is critical as we build a learning community and although the school has provided a professional development fund to support faculty and staff, a whole-school plan has not been developed. Whole-school professional development planning should focus on improving student learning outcomes and should be linked to growth and evaluation processes.
